LEAGUE APPEALS FOR FUND

ROCKVILLE AND COUNTY

Special Correspondence of The Star.
ROCKVILLE, Md., October 7.—Mrs. Lucy Dowden Dove, widow of Thomas R. Dove, died this morning at her home near Rockville, aged eighty-five years. Her death followed an illness of several weeks, and was not unexpected. The following children are living: Misses Ida S. and Beulah Dove, William V. and Emmett Dove of this vicinity, and Zedec M. Dove of Baltimore. Two sisters also are living—Mrs. Virginia Leaman of Baltimore and Mrs. Sarah E. Byrne of Gaithersburg, this county. The funeral will be held from the family residence at 2 p.m. Monday. Burial will be in Rockville cemetery. Mrs. Dove was a daughter of the late Zachariah Dove, of Rockville, and a native of Rockville. She had lived in this vicinity about fifty years.

Following his conviction in the police court here on a charge of assault, preferred by Mortimer L. Price of Washington, Mark Allen Graham, also of Washington, was fined $15 and costs by Judge J. Alby Henderson. Mrs. Arthur E. H. Middleton, Richard A. Narkle and Alexander Mosher, who were also charged with assaulting Price, were acquitted.

Price claimed that because an auto truck of which he was in charge became disabled on the Rockville-Gaithersburg pike, several miles east of Rockville, blocking the road, he was set upon by Graham and the others who were on their way out from Washington. In an automobile, and badly beaten, Graham admitted that he struck Price, giving as his excuse that Price had used bad language toward him and the others in his party. There was nothing in the testimony to show that the other defendants had been guilty of anything very serious, although Mrs. Middleton admitted that she struck at Price and used language that was "not exactly becoming in a lady." Narkle stated that the blow Mrs. Middleton aimed at Price missed its mark and landed with considerable force on the witness. Price was badly disfigured and Graham also showed the effects of the mix-up.

Harvey Budd and George Askins, colored residents of Olney district, this county, who were arrested by Deputy Sheriff Ginnell and Hutchinson several nights ago on charges of violating the local option law of the county by having intoxicating liquor in their possession, with intention to sell it, were acquitted by Judge J. Alby Henderson in the police court here today.

Judge Henderson did not think there was anything in the testimony to show that the rather small amount of liquor found in the possession of the men was intended to be sold by them and accepted their explanation that it was for their personal use.

When arrested the men were on their way home from Washington. Transfers of real estate were recorded in the office of the clerk of the circuit court here during the week, as follows: Arthur L. Jones, to Virginia A. Wood, three acres, Charles E. Fox, to J. Clinton Dorsner, one acre, Percy W. Kelly, to Walter Burns, eighty acres, Robert W. Talbot, to Alice B. Kiriloff, two lots at Takoma Park; Mary J. Haight, to Hugh G. Myers, lot in Norwood Heights; Mary V. Walters, to Suselita A. Arneson, lot at Chevy Chase; Chevy Chase Land Company, to Madeline S. Kavanagh, lot at Chevy Chase; Cyrus Keiser, to Cyrus Keiser, Jr., lot in Highland Park; Alfred J. La Croix, to Julia L. McCoy, lot at Somerset Heights; Louis L. Sadler, to Edward C. Musgrave, lot in Rockville; George Bailey, to Edward H. Hilmuth, lot at Chevy Chase; Rymol W. Baldwin, to Joseph H. Hilkey, lot at Silver Spring; James B. Henderson, to Clara S. Henderson, lot in Rockville; John H. McKee, to Charles G. Nauck, lot at Takoma.

ANNUAL FLOWER SHOW

HELD AT FALLS CHURCH

Blooms of Every Variety on Exhibition—List of the Prize Winners.

Special Correspondence of The Star.
FALLS CHURCH, Va., October 7.—The third annual Falls Church flower show, under the auspices of the Woman's Civic League, was held yesterday and today in the Congressional building, on Washington street. Both in the number and beauty of blooms the exhibition far surpassed that of either of the previous years. In addition, there was a large display of fruits and vegetables, shown this year for the first time.

The largest display was of dahlias, almost every well known variety and a number of new ones being shown. Other classes were of roses, chrysanthemums, cosmos, asters, potted plants and cut flowers grown by children. The fruit classes were for apples, pears, peaches and grapes, and the vegetable class included potatoes, squash, egg plant, peppers, tomatoes, cabbage, onions, turnips, carrots and cauliflower.

The exhibits were judged by Dr. W. Van Fleet, F. L. Mulford, Prof. W. C. Orton, Dr. D. N. Shoemaker and H. C. Skeels, all of the Department of Agriculture.

In addition to the ribbons awarded by the league there were a large number of special prizes donated by merchants of Falls Church, Washington and elsewhere.

Winners of Prizes.

Following is a list of the prize winners: Mrs. W. T. Westcott, Mrs. M. M. Irwin, Dr. R. J. Formad, Mrs. I. J. Rullman, Mrs. G. T. Mankin, Mrs. Frank Birch, Mrs. J. F. Bethune, Mrs. C. A. Marshall, Mrs. George B. Fideley, Mrs. Smoot, Mrs. Albert Eastman, Miss Mary Quick, Mrs. Brinkerhoff, Mr. Merrifield, Mrs. N. H. Luttrell, Mrs. W. N. Lynch, Mrs. Parrott, Marion Westcott, Mary Copeland, Ed. Rullman, William Rullman, Marion Birch, W. T. Parrott, Dr. J. P. Samilwood, S. E. Hutton, Mrs. V. Quick, J. Bahand, Mrs. Des Rochers, W. T. Westcott and W. N. Lynch.

The members of the Civic League entertained the judges at luncheon Friday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Formad. The judges pronounced this the finest show that has been held around Washington this year, basing their opinion not only on the merit of the exhibits, but on the attractive arrangement of the display.

The following were the members of the committee on exhibition: Mrs. W. T. Westcott, Mrs. P. H. Smythe, Mrs. C. A. Marshall, Mrs. A. P. Eastman, Mrs. George T. Mankin, Mrs. S. S. Cline, Mrs. J. M. De Rochers, Mrs. R. J. Formad, Mrs. G. B. Fideley, Mrs. J. W. Garner and Mrs. G. W. Hawhurst.

Many Want Army Commissions.

Already about 450 candidates have been designated to take the examination for appointment to the grade of second lieutenant in the army to be held soon. The list of candidates includes all eligible classes with the exception of the enlisted men of the army who are permitted to enter the competition without the preliminary examination required of civilians, national guardsmen and others.

Al Jolson Himself At Hecht & Co.'s and the Belasco

Al Jolson Singing His Latest New York Winter Garden Success at the Belasco Theater This Week.

"Where Did Robinson Crusoe Go With Friday on Saturday Night"

(From the Musical Extravaganza, "Robinson Crusoe, Jr.")

Hecht & Co. give you the opportunity to hear Al Jolson sing this song in your own home, as well as "You're a Dangerous Girl," another hit of the popular comedian, just as he will sing it at the Belasco Theater this week.

Al Jolson's spontaneous, exhilarating quality of humor is as infectious as it is unique, and we wouldn't advise you to pass him up. We are indeed proud that such a clever artist is a Washingtonian. If you can't see and hear him in person at the Belasco this week congratulate yourself that you are able to get thoroughly adequate and representative records of his work at Hecht & Co.'s Talking Machine Shop.

T. LINCOLN TOWNSEND.

The issues in the campaign are to be discussed by republican speakers for the benefit of the department employees at the lunch hour each day, beginning next week, according to announcement made last night by T. Lincoln Townsend, president of the League of Republican State Clubs.

"Of course, our speakers cannot go into the department buildings to address the employees," said Mr. Townsend, "but they will speak from automobiles drawn up just outside the buildings. There will be an open-air talk of this kind outside each one of the departments. Boys with sandwich signs will advertise the time, place and topic of the address each day. In this way we expect to reach many of the voters who are employed in the departments, and whom the league is doing all in its power to persuade to go home and vote for Hughes and Fairbanks. The tariff, the so-called eight-hour law and other issues of the campaign will be discussed."

Getting Out the Votes.

The League of Republican State Clubs is very active this year, as in past campaign years, in the matter of getting out the District vote. Of course, there is no voting here, but it is estimated there are some 25,000 men and women in Washington employed in the government service who have retained their local residences in their home states. It is these potential voters that Mr. Townsend and the league are earnestly trying to send home to vote the republican ticket.

Mr. Townsend said that the league was instrumental in getting some 5,000 voters to go home and vote four years ago. This year he said, even more vigorous efforts are being made to get the District voters out in the past.

Meetings Twice a Week.
Meetings will be held at the headquarters twice a week from now on Monday and Thursday nights. At these meetings well known speakers will address the audiences and plans will be laid for aiding in the campaign for the election of the republican candidates.

The political campaign work done in Washington by the league is of much importance. It is the object of the league to create the willingness on the part of the potential voter here to vote the republican ticket and then to see that he goes home and casts his ballot. This year many of the business men of Washington are taking a vital interest in the campaign, it is said, and are putting forth their best efforts in a campaign of education. They are using arguments to the civil service employees of the government to the effect that the democratic administration has made many assaults upon the civil service system.

Mr. Townsend has associated with him in this work committees consisting of many of the most influential business men in the city. The league expended more than $3,000 four years ago, and this year will require a considerable sum of money to cover the city with its campaign of education. To maintain its headquarters and to furnish information to the voters who desire to go home. Also, the league is in conjunction with the republican state committee, in sending speakers into nearby states to aid in the campaigns now on there.

League Asks for Funds.

In order to aid the campaign fund Mr. Townsend sent out about 1,500 copies of the following letters last night, addressed to the business and professional men of the city:

"The League of Republican State Clubs, by direction of the republican national committee, are conducting a local work in behalf of the election of Hughes and Fairbanks, and to this end it is our purpose to endeavor to work up an interest among 25,000 republican voters from the states in going to the polls to elect a republican president, which is meeting with splendid success."

In order to meet the expense of this bureau it will be necessary to raise a little money by voluntary contributions, and we ask your support in behalf of the cause, by sending to the undersigned your check for such amount as you care to contribute.

"We are in favor of the five and ten dollar contribution plan."

A failure of the republican President would have a disastrous effect upon the business interests of the country.

"It is believed that a great deal of good can be done in Washington in behalf of the cause of republicanism, even though many of its residents are in a position only to be in sympathy with the election of the republican ticket."

"We earnestly ask your co-operation."

Detectives Hold Virginia Girl.

Pauline B. Shepherd, sixteen years old, left her home at Accotink, Va., Friday, and came here to see a girl friend in this city, and when she did not return home that night her father, Samuel Shepherd, communicated with the local police.

Detectives Evans and O'Dea were detailed on the search and late yesterday afternoon found her at her friend's home in South Washington. The girl was taken to the house of detention until her father could come here today for her.
